IMPACT ON LOCAL TAXES—The chart above shows the impact on local towns of the proposed SAD44 budget for fiscal year 1996. The mil-rate projections for FY '96 reflect only the effect of the school assessment; each town's actual rate would also be affected by any increases or decreases in the municipal budget or the county assessment, as well as by properties added to or lost from the tax list. The graph to the right shows the growth in the SAD44 budget from FY '81 to the FY '96 proposed figure. The upper, darker area of each column represents the local tax assessment; the lower, lighter area represents money from other sources (primarily state aid); the number over each column is the total budget for that year. A listing of SAD44 teacher salaries for the coming year can be found on page 4. Thursday's budget hearing will be held at 7 p.m. in the Telstar auditorium. This will be a hearing only; the districtwide vote on the budget will be July 31.

Speck tower could be reopened by fall

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Maine Bureau of Parks and Recreation has given the go-ahead for repair work on the Old Speck Mountain fire tower.

The work is to be funded in part by proceeds from the state's "Look" conservation plates, according to park manager Andy Haskell.

The tower, which is seriously deteriorated, was closed last August because of safety concerns.

The structure's wooden platform and railing are rotted, and 18 of the 41 cross braces are broken, as are two of the four guy wires.

The guy-wire foundation is particularly critical, Haskell said, because if the tower blows over it would fall much more expensive to repair.

Haskell said he received word this week authorizing an engineering survey of the necessary repairs.

The final report will be submitted out by volunteer, he said, and a number of people and businesses, including Sunday River Ski Area, are interested in helping with the project.

Haskell said he will also be contacting local businesses seeking contributions of materials.

The Maine National Guard has agreed to provide a helicopter to lift heavy material and equipment, he said.

For more than 80 years prior to its closing, the tower on the peak of the 4,180-foot mountain offered the watchers and hikers outstanding views of Mt. Washington, the White Mountains, the Baldpates, Umbagog Lake, the Malbone range and beyond.

The amount of Old Speck is forecast -- without the tower there is no view.

Haskell said that if everything can be successfully rehabilitated, and the weather cooperates, work on the repairs could begin soon after Labor Day. The work, he said, can probably be completed over a weekend; he said he will back the tower -- and its view -- will be back in the next season.

Bethel Area Health Center Still seeking mental-health license

By ALISON ALONSO

Finding psychiatric care providers for rural Maine health centers is no easy task.

Wende Gray, chair of the Bethel Area Health Center board, said Monday the scarcity of such providers is preventing BAHIC from getting a mental health care service state license.

Gray said the center is working hard to obtain 24-hour-a-day psychiatric coverage for the area. The coverage is a requirement for licensing.

"It's difficult to find psychiatric coverage in western Maine. We're not in Portland, where there are tons of psychiatrists," Gray said Monday. She said trying to obtain services at a reasonable rate makes the task even more difficult.

"We've located one person, but would like to have two or three as backup, or if someone goes on vacation," she said.

Gray said that aside from the health center's desire to simply serve the community, the psychiatric services were also necessary to satisfy insurance and grant requirements.

Gray said an agreement has been reached with Tri-County Mental Health of South Paris to provide other psychological counseling and clinical oversight services. She said a contract would be signed with Tri-County if and when the psychiatric providers are found.

Gray said some substance abuse counseling is currently available at BAHIC.

Former BAHIC employee Charles

Gill was fired last November, and was later charged with the unlawful practice of psychology.

BAHIC executive director George Larsen declined to comment on the licensing process, saying he did not want to discuss it until contracts had been obtained.

Insurance, Gill updates

In March Blue Cross/Blue Shield asked the health center to repay money paid to BAHIC for mental health services provided during Gill's employment. The amount was under $10,000, according to BC/BS spokesman Carol Morris.

Gray said BAHIC is still working on settling the issue with Blue Cross.

Gill, meanwhile, is scheduled for trial in Oxford County Superior Court sometime in October.

REAL RAIN
After weeks of dry weather, western Maine got some substantial rainfall Monday. Scattered thunderstorms last week had done little to alleviate the drought, but Monday's all-day downpour brought relief. Here, rain pours out of a gutter behind the Bethel Town Office.

Board OKs splitting up GAMM lot

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Planning Board has given its blessing to a proposal to split off a 1.3-acre parcel from the 4.7-acre GAMM II lot at the Airport Industrial Park.

The smaller parcel has been proposed as a possible solution to the stalemate between the developers of Bethel Station and Oxford West Telephone Company, which owns another parcel across which the development's new parkway is slated to run.

Ron Kendall, chairman of the Airport Industrial Park Committee, told the board last week that Oxford West had expressed interest in two other AIP lots, but the committee was not interested in selling either lot to the telephone company, because the proposed use -- storing telephone poles -- would not produce any new jobs.

The 1.3-acre parcel was being proposed as an alternative, Kendall said, in the hopes of allowing the deal to move forward and the parkway work to begin.

"Without us getting this by you and the DEP, we don't have a prayer," he told the planners.

The board raised no objections to the proposal, voting unanimously that the consensus of the board

Vet: Rabies now a real threat

By GARY STUER, DVM

Rabies is an emerging problem in Oxford County, coming primarily from two sources. The first is infected raccoons, skunks and similar animals. The second is infected foxes.

Rabies can affect any mammal. It is a viral infection of the brain, usually transmitted by the bite of an infected animal.

It can also be transmitted by a scratch, by getting saliva on an open wound or on mucous membranes, or by being cut with a knife, saw or other instrument that recently cut an infected animal.

The disease can be prevented by immunization, but once symptoms develop, it is almost uniformly fatal.

Although rabies is a rare disease in people in the United States, it is a major public health concern because of the anxiety it causes and the great expense involved in prophylactic treatment.

If a person is exposed to a rabid animal, they must undergo a series of injections to prevent active infection.

'We must teach children that any animal can carry the virus.'

It is very common for a single rabid animal to expose multiple people, resulting in a medical expenditure of tens of thousands of dollars per animal.

Prevention of human infection includes education of the public and vaccination of domestic animals.

Vaccination of dogs and cats is especially important. They are more likely to be directly exposed to infected animals, and can infect their owners or other human and animal contacts.

Puppies and kittens can be vaccinated as early as 12 weeks of age. Their second vaccine is one year later, then every two years. The rabies vaccine is about 98 percent effective at preventing rabies once an animal is exposed.

The key to preventing human exposure is education. We must teach children that any animal can carry the virus. A rabid animal does not have to appear sick.

Only pet or handle animals that are known to you. Never approach wild animals or stray dogs and cats.

If you or a family member is bitten by a stray or wild animal, contact your family physician immediately, and wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water for at least 10 minutes.

If a family pet is bitten by a wild or stray animal, call your veterinarian immediately. Limit exposure to your pet until the situation has been discussed with your veterinarian.

Rabies is a serious problem, but with appropriate vaccination of our pets and by avoiding wild or stray animals, we can reduce the risk of rabies significantly.

MOLLYCKETT DAY MISHAP—Mary Chapman of Bethel was removed from her car with the "Jaws of Life" after an accident at the intersection of Route 2 and the Northwest Bethel Road Saturday. Chapman was traveling east on Rt. 2 when she tried to turn left onto the Northwest Bethel Road. Her car was struck by a car driven by Anne Launt of Potsdam, N.Y., who was headed west. Chapman and Launt were taken to Stephen's Memorial Hospital by Bethel Rescue. Chapman's leg was broken, while Launt received minor injuries, according to police chief Dale Bellman. Both cars were totaled in the accident.

Briefly

Hakala is new fire chief

GREENWOOD--The Board of Selectmen has appointed Wayne Hakala to a one-year term as fire chief. Hakala, a five-year veteran of the department, previously served as first assistant. He also had fire-fighting experience while in the military. He replaces Raymond Seames, who resigned after serving as chief since May 1992. Seames said his resignation was due solely to the need to devote more time to his business. He said he will continue to serve in the Fire Department.

Election for selectman scheduled

ANDOVER--Three candidates were in the running for a selectman's seat in an election yesterday (Tuesday). They include Gerry Gaudet, Greg Peaslee and Fred Emerson. The seat was vacated by Woody Creeke, who resigned shortly after being elected earlier this year.

Train destroys apartment house

NORTH STRATFORD, N.H.--A 14-year old girl suffered minor injuries earlier this month when 14 cars of a southbound St. Lawrence and Atlantic train derailed and some of the cars smashed into an apartment house in the center of town. The girl, who was in an upstairs apartment, was thrown from a flight of stairs, suffering bruises and strained muscles, according to The Coos County Democrat. There were no other injuries reported in the incident. The derailed cars were carrying corn, sand and flour, according to the newspaper's report, but nearby cars were carrying propane and hydrochloric and sulfuric acid. The train was en route from Montreal to Portland.

Mt. Blue State Park logging ends

WELD--A Dixfield company will give up its remaining logging rights at Mt. Blue State Park, having completed 85 percent of the logging permitted under a state plan. Timberlands Inc., which had faced stiff protests, will turn over the logging rights for 1,670 cords of wood to the Webb Lake Association, said John Stowell, the company's vice president. "We are giving the remaining cutting rights to the Webb Lake Association as a gesture of goodwill to the state," said Stowell, whose company was deced logging rights 30 years ago. Harvey Ricker, vice president of the Webb Lake Association, said the group will hold the timber rights until they expire next year. "We're into preserving the land," he said. The state had given cutting rights to Timberlands in 1966 in exchange for 17 acres of land on Webb Lake. The company logged in the area until 1972. After a 20-year hiatus, the company resumed cutting in 1993 with state approval to harvest 10,800 cords of wood over four winters. Protesters camped out in the park, blocked access roads and demonstrated outside the Timberlands headquarters.

Billboards on Route 2?

WASHINGTON, D.C.--A U.S. Senate bill sponsored by Sen. Wendell Ford (D-Ky.) would effectively kill Vermont's decades-old anti-billboard law, according to a report in the Burlington Free Press. The bill would allow businesses along interstates and some federally funded roads (such as U.S. Route 2) to put up billboards. Alaska, Hawaii, Maine, and Vermont have statewide bans on billboards. Rhode Island and Oregon have capped the number at current levels. Sen. James Jeffords (R-Vt.) is fighting the bill. "Not only would this cut out the heart of the Highway Beautification Act, but it would mark an unprecedented federal intrusion into local zoning power. I felt strongly that the citizens of my state should be able to continue to control billboards as they see fit," Jeffords said.

Tech college tuition goes up

FAIRFIELD--Trustees of the Maine Technical College System have approved tuition increases of 5 percent, effective this fall. Tuition for in-state students will rise to $61 for each credit hour, up from $58, putting the annual cost of an average course load at $1,830. Credit hours for out-of-state students will $134, up from $127, boosting annual tuition for those students to $4,029. "The board continues to have concerns about tuition and its impact on Maine students," chairman Jim Donovan said in a statement Friday. "Unfortunately, we have a choice between dropping more programs that students want access to, or increasing tuition by a modest amount. We feel this is the better of the two options." Officials said a $3.5 million hike in state funding for the coming two years helped keep tuition from rising higher.

EPA announces crackdown

BOSTON, Ma.--The Environmental Protection Agency's New England office has announced a new crackdown on public facilities, citing 14 for various record-keeping and storage violations and recommending fines totaling close to $200,000. "Gone is the day when government or industry can slip through the enforcement cracks when human health and the environment are at stake," John DeVillars, regional administrator of EPA-New England, said last week. The Strong Targeted Enforcement Program, known as STEP-UP, concentrates on public agencies, the urban environment, sensitive coastal resources and sources of pollution that most seriously threaten people and the environment, the EPA said. Up to 80 percent of the agency's enforcement resources are being dedicated to the four target areas. The program also calls for greater coordination between state and federal agencies, including the region's attorneys general and U.S. attorneys. The next stage of STEP-UP will target specific geographic areas for inspections, such as Rhode Island's Narragansett Bay and Maine's Casco Bay, EPA said.

Conservationist, developer eye parcel

BRETTON WOODS, N.H.--Picture a large area of forest land with spectacular views of the Presidential Range in the White Mountains. Now, picture that land dotted with 600 condominiums. There's a struggle brewing over whether a 480-acre tract behind the Mount Washington Hotel should be made part of the White Mountain National Forest, or if it should be allowed to go to a developer. Congress could decide the fight if it approves the House Appropriations Committee's recommendation to drastically cut money from $235 million to $51 million for increasing federal land used for conservation and recreation. The land would fall under a proposed seven-year moratorium on buying most new federal land. The Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests, the Appalachian Mountain Club and other regional environmental groups want Congress to spare money to buy the property. "There are a few major tracts of land in the White Mountains that should be part of the White Mountain National Forest, but aren't, and clearly, this is one of them," said Richard Ober, spokesman for the society. The Granite State Phoenix Corp., which owns the Mount Washington Hotel, wants to sell the property for conservation, and has signed an option with the Trust for Public Land. It expires next year. The trust, a nonprofit environmental group, is acting as a middle man to negotiate the deal with the federal government. "The landowner needs to make some money from this property, and his preference is to sell it to the Forest Service," Ober said. "But if that doesn't happen, then development will definitely happen there." The Satter Corp., parent company of Granite State Phoenix, has said up to 600 condos would be built on the property if the Forest Service deal falls through.

Maine environmental report out

AUGUSTA--A project to identify, compare, and rank the most serious environmental problems facing Maine, and propose priorities, has released a report on 15 environmental problems. Issues addressed by the Maine Environmental Priorities Project include outdoor air; global climate change; stratospheric ozone depletion; surface waters and sediments; ground water; drinking water; land and agricultural resources; Maine's built and natural landscape; terrestrial ecosystems; freshwater and marine ecosystems; food safety; indoor air; exposure to toxins in the workplace; solid, special and hazardous wastes; and radiation. The project's Steering Committee will use the reports, all comments received on them, and information obtained from the public through public meetings in September to evaluate the environmental issues. It will then make recommendations to the governor and legislature on priorities for action. Copies of the report may be obtained from MEPP, State House Station #17, Augusta, ME 04333, or telephone 207-287-6843.

Planners

"saw no problems with the subdivision" of the lot. The Bethel Board of Selectmen has already approved the concept of such a deal, but the selectmen would also have to approve the final details.

The expected price of the new parcel is $25,000, which will be paid (to the town) by either Oxford West or the developers, who would then swap lots with the telephone company.

(Developer Heinie Merrill said Monday that the other deals needed to acquire land for the parkway have now been completed. If agreement can be reached with Oxford West, he said, work on the parkway could begin by Labor Day.)

Sign, road delay OK'd

The board also granted permission last week for Steve and Marie Keane to place a sign for their business, Wild River Adventures on someone else's property.

The Keanes operate the business from their home, which is located on the Sunday Valley Acres Road, approximately one-tenth of a mile from the intersection of the Sunday River Road.

Bethel's sign ordinance prohibits placing signs anywhere but on the property of the business, but Steve Keane asked the board last week to allow the sign to be placed at the intersection.

Keane said he had permission from the landowner, Charles Haegele, to place the sign there -- where it would replace the current faded subdivision sign.

Without the waiver, Keane argued, his location made it impossible for the business to get the exposure it needed. But with the skier traffic on the Sunday River Road, Keane said, having the sign there would be "a tremendous opportunity."

Some board members expressed concern over establishing such a precedent, but planner Don Feeney argued for the waiver, noting that the Sunday Valley Road was a private road, and if the board turned down the waiver, the Keanes could always "buy a panel truck, paint a sign on it and set it out there."

The Keanes' house is currently for sale, and Feeney suggested approving the waiver for one year.

The suggestion was unanimously approved.

The board also agreed to give developer Carl Hansen another year to complete the road work in his Egypt Mountain subdivision.

The road was originally to be built by November 1993, but Hansen later received a two-year extension, and at the last Planning Board meeting he sought an additional year.

The board agreed, but with a condition that the road work be undertaken as soon as Hansen sells another lot in the subdivision.

The board last week also approved site plan applications for the expansion of the P.H. Chadbourne Company mill and for Fran Head's new restaurant in Mayville (see photo, above).

County G.O.P. to screen Foster tape

At the conclusion of their meeting July 26, the Oxford County Republicans will screen a videotape on the suicide of White House lawyer Vince Foster. Those staying to watch the tape "will have an opportunity to consider a number of issues raised by the death of this close associate of President Clinton," according to a press release from the county organization.

The meeting will be held at the North Waterford Congregational Church beginning at 6 p.m. for a social hour. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. ($5 per person) by the church members, followed by remarks from State Sen. Jane Amero (R-Cape Elizabeth) on some of the issues facing the people of Maine.

A representative from the Dole Campaign will be present to update the committee on Dole's quest for the presidency. A short business meeting will also be held.

Oxford County Republicans are cordially invited to attend. For further information, call Waterford County Committeeman Norman Foster (583-4688) or Oxford County Republican Chairman Stan Howe (824-2291).

From the Bethel Police log:

Watch out for credit card scam

On July 17 at 6:39 p.m., an East Bethel Road resident reported he had received a call in which a male subject had asked for the resident's wife by name. When she got on the phone, the subject told her she had been picked as a possible winner of a prize, and asked if she had a Master Card or Visa. The woman said she did not enter sweepstakes, and the caller abruptly hung up. Her husband said he wanted police to be aware of the call. Later in the evening police spoke with an Oxford County Sheriff's deputy, who said he had received a similar call at his residence, which he also ignored. Police said it is apparent that these are random calls, and the public should be warned not to give any credit card information of any type to anyone over the phone.

Wednesday, July 12

At 4 p.m. a caller reported a vehicle had gone off the road on the Songo Pond Road. It was later reported the vehicle had left the scene and headed into town. Police were unable to locate the vehicle. The operator later contacted police, saying he was forced off the road by another vehicle.

Thursday, July 13

At 10:31 p.m. a caller reported two males and a female fighting at the Sud's Bar. The door person said a female had struck him and another man. He said he tried to escort her out, and she struggled. When police arrived both parties were outside. The door person said he wanted her to leave, and she did. The female was very intoxicated and appeared to be bleeding from one ear. She refused medical treatment. No charges were filed.

Saturday, July 15

At 10:12 a.m. a caller reported that the lower "log pusher" on a log grapple had caught a rail at the railroad crossing in the P.H. Chadbourne mill yard. It had bent the rail and torn up a large amount of asphalt. The railroad was contacted to stop all trains, because the tracks were impassable.

Sunday, July 16

At 10:58 a.m. three people reported items taken from their cars, parked at the Fairway Condos, during the night. A Wakefield, R.I. resident said items taken from her vehicle included binoculars, a tape box with tapes and a Nintendo "Game Boy." Losses totalled $682. The car was not locked. An East Greenwich, R.I. resident reported $330 worth of items, including a camera, which had been taken from her unlocked car. A Forestdale, Ma. resident had a duffle bag and pack taken from his vehicle. He said the car was locked, but a check by police showed no signs of forced entry.

At 4:40 p.m. a Bethel resident reported his mountain bikes had been stolen in Bethel. During investigation it was determined the theft occurred at Frenchman's Hole in Riley Township. The investigation was turned over to the Oxford County Sheriff's Department.

At 8 p.m. a Portland resident called to say he had spoken with police about a complaint that his dog had bitten a number of people at Pat's Pizza. He said that during the incident, someone had taken his medicine bag from between the seats of his vehicle. The medicines included 60 tablets of Ridlin and 100 tablets of Melorin, both anti-anxiety tablets.

Tuesday, July 18

At 10:43 a.m. a Bethel resident reported that his six-month old black lab puppy had run away from his residence on Tyler Street. The dog has brown eyes and a black collar, and is named "Remington." Anyone seeing the animal is asked to contact the Bethel Police.

Greenwood logging site DEP satisfied, but town CEO still has questions

By ALISON ALOISIO

Jerome Holt does not plan to establish a $10,000 escrow account to pay for possible repairs to the Greenwood Road.

Erosion from Holt's logging operation on the side of a hill near South Pond has been the subject of close scrutiny by DEP, road commissioner Alan Seames, and code enforcement officer Norm Putnam for over three months.

A heavy March rainstorm washed silt into South Pond. Later it was found that hay bales and silt fencing put out by Holt to stop the flow of water had caused standing water next to the road. Seames also found the soil under the road was saturated, and that the pavement had cracked and settled.

Putnam had recommended the escrow account as part of a consent agreement among the town, Holt, and landowners William Mitchell and Margaret Ring.

The money would be used for road repair over the next year, if any damage were attributed to the logging operation.

But after inspecting the road with Holt in late June, Seames decided it was in satisfactory condition, and that the cracks could not necessarily be blamed on Holt's work.

He told selectmen at a recent meeting that some of the cracks had closed up, and that for now at least, the road is in good condition.

"It's all dry now. There were some cracks in the tar, but I don't think they were caused by water. That road has had water under it everywhere," he said.

He said he thought the cracking was caused by frost.

Holt wrote a letter to selectmen, dated July 5, saying he did not agree with the proposed escrow account. He cited Seames' observations to support his position.

Selectmen suggested to selectmen that instead of an escrow account, they ask Holt to fix any damage which might arise in the next year from his operation. Putnam had expressed concern that a heavy rain might cause a landslide onto the road, before seeding of the eroded area takes hold.

Putnam was also skeptical that the road damage near the logging site was typical for the Greenwood Road. He said Monday that while there were small indentations over much of the road, there appeared to be more in the area near the logging site.

He said that area of the road had been fixed last year, and therefore either the low spots had not been adequately filled then, or the road had settled there more than elsewhere.

Other conditions accepted

Holt has agreed to four consent agreement conditions designed to correct the hillside erosion. The steps include any necessary seeding, mulching, silt removal and fence maintenance, and slash cutting and removal.

Putnam asked him to do some seeding, clean the silt fences, and cut slash by the middle of this week.

Putnam checked the site in the early afternoon on Monday. He said that at that time the heavy rain was being absorbed by the dry ground on the hillside.

$1,000 work requirement fulfilled

Holt had also been told by DEP to complete $1,000 worth of "supplemental environmental project" work in the South Pond watershed. The labor was in lieu of a $1,000 fine for causing silt to wash into the pond.

Selectman Harry Swan said he understood the work to be separate from correcting the erosion on the logging site.

But Will Cook of DEP said he was allowing Holt's construction of stone footings for a new driveway road to serve as the supplemental work. Cook said the road was now very stable.

"Because Mr. Holt has been very cooperative, and it's a first-time offense, we've dropped any formal action against him," Cook said.

Cook said he planned to inspect the site again in late August.

Greenwood appeal hearing Friday

The Greenwood Board of Appeals will meet Friday morning to consider a request from Carlton and Lenora Cole for a waiver of the setback requirements on a 1.1-acre lot on Twitchell Pond.

The meeting will be held at the Town Office general purpose room, beginning at 9 a.m.

MICHELLE SPRAGUE GETS CHILD CARE CREDENTIAL process, every candidate for the CDA credential is observed working with young children by an early childhood professional. In addition, the candidate must demonstrate the ability to work with families to develop children's physical and intellectual capabilities in a safe and healthy environment.

Plenty of winners on Mollyockett Day

Main Street merchants reported large numbers of people in their stores on Mollyockett Day, even though there appeared to be fewer people on the Common, according to Chamber of Commerce executive director Robin Zinchuk.

The number of participants in many of the day's events was up from last year.

The Second Annual Duck Race had about 500 entries, compared to last year's 300. Winners were A.W. Kany of Saco, Ken Pease of Bethel, and Jackie Kelly of Topsfield, Mass. There were more runners and walkers in the Mollyockett Day Classic foot race as well.

Winners in the five-mile race were: Overall Men, Scott Brown; 15-19 Men, Rodney Henneman; 20-29 Men, Jay Lyons; 30-39 Men, Scott Brown; 40-49 Men, Bob Porter; 50-59 Men, Steven Sawyer; 60-69 Men, Paul Alpert; Over 70, John Weir.

Overall Women, Kathryn Brown;

15-19 Women, Amy Davis; 20-29 Women, Barbara Slager; 30-39 Women, Kathryn Brown; 40-49 Women, Donna Holtby; 50-59 Women, Pat Fry.

Overall winners in the one-mile race were Ben Flood for the boys (with a course record) and Kelly Reilly for the girls. They also won the 12-14 age divisions.

In the 9-11 divisions Thomas Parsons and Ali Pinto won the boys' and girls' competitions, respectively.

For 6-8 boys, it was Karl Olson winning, with Anna Pease taking the girls.

Jonathan Parsons won the Under 6 Boys competition, and Abbey Gardner the Under 6 Girls.

In the 13th annual Frog Jumping Contest, Catherine Myer's frog took first place, with second and third going to Mike Fleet's and Bobby Pilgrim's entries. A prize for the shortest distance (one inch) went to Simon Dumont and his frog.

The Bethel Area Health Center won the Bed Race, with Toolise AC of Boston second, and Tri-Town Rescue third.

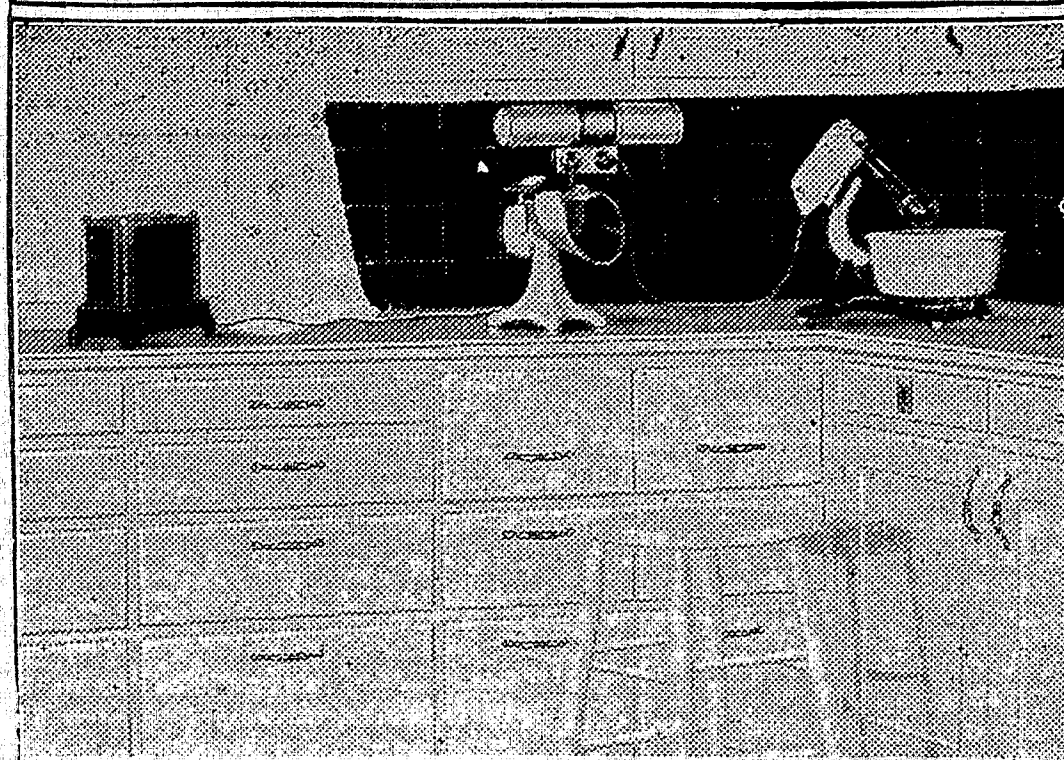

The Lion's Club Float Contest featured a "Bethel in the '40's" theme. A float by Pooh Corner Farm depicting farming in the '40's took first place. Second place went to the Bethel Bicentennial Committee's VJ Day float, while third went to Dr. John Mason's office's depiction of a 1940's dentist office.

Small Electrical Appliances Add to Comfort of Farm Life

Corner of model kitchen on 200-acre farm of Herman Boes, R. F. D. No. 2, Tiffin, Ohio, showing electric toaster, food chopper and mixer.

ALTHOUGH true that such electrical equipment as a range, refrigerator, water system and the like are the greatest time, labor and money savers in the farm home, it also is true that numerous small appliances—whose cost is but a fraction of those just mentioned—can contribute much to the comfort, ease, convenience and pleasure of rural life.

Thus, for the kitchen, there is an electric clock, mixer, ventilating fan, screen door, hot plate, cooker, roaster, ice-cream freezer, small radio receiver, food chopper, juice extractor and many other devices.

In the dining room, an electric waffle iron, chafing dish, grill, percolator, toaster and like equipment make meals easy as well as fun to prepare.

For the living room an electric clock, corn popper and motion-picture projector are among the smaller pieces of equipment that make life more pleasant.

Electric tie and pants pressers, burglar alarm, door latch, electric blanket, "fever" machine, heating pad and reducer, all are useful and convenient accessories of the bedroom.

A portable heater, electric razor or razor-blade sharpener, hair clipper, curling iron, immersion water heater, hair dryer, massage machine and vibrator add to the utility and comfort of the bathroom.

To many farmers, some of these electrical appliances at first glance may appear as unnecessary luxuries, useless "gadgets" or suitable only for city or suburban dwellers. But if they will talk to their neighbors who have some of them, or gradually—as funds permit—install them themselves, they will learn that they are indispensable necessities. With the coming of electricity, rural life has assumed all the comforts and conveniences of the city—and the advantages now are with the farmer.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan

Last week, one night at about 12:30 I had a fracas. That is what I call it, but Webster describes a fracas as a quarrel or a brawl. If that is so, then the quarrel was with myself and the result? I lost, for I received a bad bruise and a cracked rib. I fell but couldn't get up, but I won also for I was determined that in some way I would get up. So, after a half hour of struggle, and it was a struggle, I made it onto my feet and back into bed. This is not the whole story, but it's enough for now.

I have done very little since then,
but I am on the mend and doing well.

As I went for a short walk yesterday morning, a bird came down the walk, a startled brilliance from the wayside grass. I paused to look and a tail of flame glided through the roses. I was left with wonder at its beauty, an unforgettable thing.

So many times things like that return to mind. I often think, oh, to be young again, full of wonder at the world, of distant horizons, towering hills and how they seemed so near at hand. Now they are no more than gentle slopes that have been scaled and studied.

But today my thoughts find delight in simple things that help me simplify my life. My eighty-seventh birthday is looking me squarely in the face. It dawns upon me that these years can be the most unexpected of all things that can happen to anyone. Being older brings disadvantages, but I have balanced my years and have found some genuine compensations which old age can bring. I intend to fully enjoy and make the most of these days. I think often about the meaning of life as I walk. There is significance in all things if we look for it.

July 4th was a quiet time here. The families each celebrated in their own way. I joined the Hollis at Ann's for a nice cookout.

Several friends have been to see me during the week -- Mr. and Mrs.
Arland Rogers of Norway, the In-mans, Dot Betts, local, also Ann and David. My Pastor, Russell Lane, came to wish me well.

Dot Betts has had family several days to finish her porch and to paint it.

Kenneth Curtis from Ohio was to arrive at his mother's on the weekend for a visit. I presume he did.

The Innans went to the races in New Hampshire, but Eleanor became ill so they came home.

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Mills

Thought I'd see if I could get in a bit of news this week.
I certainly did -- not find the time when my children were here. Marcia (Smith) arrived in Lewiston by bus, as I think I mentioned because it was hot there that day, June 19. We both went down to stay with her aunt, my sister-in-law, Mary Mills, the next Tuesday, but on Wednesday the doctor sent Mary to CMMC in Lewiston for radiation and therapy. As I write this, Thursday, July 13, she was due to have her last radiation treatment for a while, so she's expected home this weekend.

She says she's feeling a lot better.

My son Ralph spent a few days camping in New Hampshire and then continued on to visit Marcia and me for two weeks. While he was here he upgraded the lights over my sink. He was afraid the system I had was not safe. I've got to admit these look a lot better. He also made me a couple of doors, or perhaps I should have said re-made or made over. Anyway, they serve my purpose. I also have some seat belts in my car again, thanks to Ralph. We all visited Mary at the hospital one day and Marcia and I saw her again on Monday, July 10. Ralph had left for home in Colchester, Vt., on Saturday, July 8.

Jon Smith, Presque Isle, came for his wife Marcia on Wednesday, July 12. They planned to go on to the Dryden-Wilton area to spend a few days with friends and to visit his brother Don, his wife Jane and their children Rob and Crystal in Livermore Falls. And speaking of them, the day we all visited Mary in Lewiston Ralph treated us to a meal at the Chick-a-Dee, and we were surprised to be seated at the table next to Don and his family. What are the odds of that happening? We all had a mini-family reunion. Marcia and I were glad to have some time together even though I'm sure she misses her home and hubby.
And it's a special treat when Ralph can be home at the same time. Marcia graduates from college next spring, so we may not have much time together next year. Of course she needs to find a job to help pay off those student loans! I forgot to mention we also visited Carolyn Colby and Brian at West Greenwood. Ralph hopes to come down for the Mills reunion later in the month. He inherited the love of genealogy from his grandmother, Ethel Mills, who spent a lot of time researching the family. Carolyn also enjoys it when she has the time.
Ralph has compiled quite a book using his computer. Amazing what they can do with one these days.

Well, as I surmised, the Greene house across the street changed from brown (and yellow) to gray, as a crew from a siding company worked their own brand of transforming magic. It is amazing how easy they make the work look, and I'm sure it is not easy at all. The Greenes came up from Massachusetts for a couple of days to see how it looked and to enjoy a bit of Maine summer.

Gerry Shimamura spent Thursday afternoon with me while she had her car worked on at Bob's. We had a lot of fun catching up on each other's news. I think my last six weeks have been a bit better than hers because she lost two cousins during that time. However, she did have company and got in a trip to Bailey's Island, which she said was fun even if she did get tired climbing over rocks, etc.

I hoped to get some information as to how the church's Strawberry Festival went and the Fire Department's sale, but everyone seems to be out that might know. Hopefully, I can find out for next week. Keep cool, everyone.

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Services were performed Sunday, July 9, at the Newry Community Church with Pastor

Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day was, "Lighten the Burden," from Psalms 34:4 -- "I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."
During the service Danny B. Long
Sr. (father) and Wyatt Donald Long (baby) were baptized. The Godparents were Wendy and Scott

Annis. Also present were Danny's wife Laurie, grandmother Merle Page, and sister Jessica Perry, also Danny's son, wife and baby, although I didn't get their names.
Sorry about that!

Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Hinkley celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary a couple of weeks ago. We wish them health and happiness in the next years of their lives.

Amy Hanscom celebrated her birthday on the 14th, with gifts and cards at the Community House Health Center, Rumford. Also, Ruth Cummings had a birthday on the 17th and Irene Hadfield on the 9th.
Happy Birthday to you all. May the coming years bring you health and peace of mind.

Six members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" were at the Oxford Lanes, Rumford, one day last week:
Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Telley, Doris Parent and Irene Hadfield. On the overall scores, Betsy was high on both the triples and singles with one string of 105 and lacking only two pins for a 300 score. Of the "Righties", Louise was high on the singles with one string of 93, but Irene was high on the triples beating Doris by two pins. Betsy had four spares and one strike, Karlene and Gil had two spares each, Louise had one spare and one strike, and Doris had one spare.

Norman Telley took his wife Louise and me to visit with Roger and Amy Hanscom last Wednesday.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Wilma Taylor is at the Norway Convalescent Center while recuperating from her stay in Stephens Memorial Hospital and hopes to be home soon.

Gladys Kilgore is at the Norway Convalescent Center after being in Stephens Memorial Hospital. She, too, hopes to be home soon. Frances Grant is taking good care of Gladys' cat "Ching" while his mistress is away.

Molly Nelson was in a group of six on Monday, July 10, who went on a horseback trail ride and overnight camping trip with their leader, Diane Leighton and their horses. What an enjoyable and learning experience for them. Her parents, brother and I visited them that evening, and it sure looked like a lot of fun. It is a fun time that they will never forget.

Paul Taylor from New Hampshire was at the home of his aunt, Gladys Kilgore, over the past weekend visiting and making arrangements for her care at the Norway Convalescent Center. This is until her broken wrist heals and she gets strength in her legs.

We have a new household member -- a parakeet named "Sim Sim" while his mistress is preparing to go to Tunisia for a visit with her family. There's never a dull moment around here and not time enough to do all the things needed to be done.

Mrs. Jacqueline Flynn, Jenny, Kelly and Elizabeth from Stoneham, Mass., have been at Lake Keewaydin and visiting with Kate Flynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mooney, Christopher and Eric have been staying at the "Beach House."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cornette and Anthony from Stoneham, Mass., are staying at "Turtle Inn" on Lake Keewaydin.

Frank Fiske from New Hampshire is staying at his cottage and visiting friends in the area. He used to teach music at Fryeburg Academy.

Kate Flynn joined 11 of her relatives for supper and visiting on Monday evening at her cottage at the lake.

The July meeting of the Oxford County Republicans will be held at the North Waterford Church on July 26 at 7 p.m. (social hour at 6 p.m.), with State Sen. Jane A. Amero from Cape Elizabeth as the featured speaker. Hopefully, a representative of U.S. Sen. Robert Dole's presidential campaign will also be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conboy from Massachusetts are here for the summer at their cottage on Lake Keewaydin.

D.U.V. members -- don't forget the meeting on Wednesday, July 26.

People, don't forget to get your tickets for the Lobster-Steak Cookout put on by Stoneham Rescue on July 22 at 6 p.m.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

Congratulations to Nick and Marta Clements on the birth of a granddaughter, Sarah Jeanne, born July 9 to Bruce and Cynthia Clements of Weare, N.H. Sarah was born on her great-grandmother's birthday (Marta's mother).

Beverly Dayton, Donna Koshiba and Danielle Dayton took a tour to Boothbay Harbor one day this week. Beverly has now returned to Florida. She had been visiting with her parents, Buster and Claribel Poland for awhile.

Rosalie Poland has returned from a visit with friends in Rhode Island, where she spent a few days vacationing.

Richard Wing has been ditching at Grafton Notch area this week with the Bethel DOT crew. Richard said there are plans to hot-top a portion of Route 26 this summer or fall through the South Woodstock and Woodstock area. Percy Monk is doing some ditching on the Perkins Valley road this week.

My sister, Dotie Critser, Arizona, sent me a photo of my brother, Gerald Poland, taken many years ago, when he went into the service, during World War II. The photo was given to her by one of Gerald's buddies at that time. Gerald was killed in the Battle of the Bulge during WWII.

There's a logging operation going on near our home. The crew starts at about 5 a.m. We know they have to get out early and get working before the heat arrives. We don't mind as we get up early.

The Phillips Farm was one of the farms that held open house on Farm Days. According to the many cars that went by that day I would say they had a good turnout.

Bob Croteau stopped by the other day and gave us a quart of strawberries. They were very big and delicious. Thanks, Bob.

We have new neighbors renting one of the Davis' houses next door. We have not met them as yet, but want to welcome them to South Woodstock.

Students making the honor roll the last part of the school year are: Emily Phillips, Jeffrey Chandler. Many other awards were earned by students from this area in other subjects.

Phil and Terry Merrill have returned from Mobile, Ala., where they spent a couple of weeks with their daughter Amy and Terry's sister, JoAnna Poland.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society reports that he has given some jewelry and an art print to the society.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that people are never sneaky in only one area of their life."

Upton

by Arline Bernier

Muriel was different from the other girls when she went to school upstairs in Upton. Some of us liked all the boys, some did not like any of them, others liked whichever ones were on the scene, but Muriel, early on, had one friend to whom she was very devoted and her life was centered around him. She thought she had the better life, but we felt sorry that she missed out on our varied activities. At her funeral service in Errol, I was pleased to see her picture as I remembered her with a sweet face and it reminded me of her musical voice. My sympathy to all her family.

Sympathy, also, to the Fuller family. Isabelle Fuller Hutchinson recently passed away at the home of her daughter, Frances. When Isabelle lived in Upton, she was one of the most talented, creative persons who ever lived here. She took part in every project, lavishly decorating the church at holidays. She curled the girls' hair for every special occasion using an iron heated by putting it into the chimney of a kerosene lamp. She was musically talented and wrote a song which received national acclaim.

The Ladies' Aid held a meeting last Tuesday evening. It was announced that another member has resigned leaving only eight members. The building was in chaos as all the kitchen supplies were in the main room while the kitchen ceiling was being redone. Lucille Largesse reported a profit of $202.50 from the barbecue and raffle. Simenne Lavallee reported that she has not decided when she will have a public supper, sometime in August.

A group of friends of Upton Union Church are raising money to put the building in better repair. A leaky roof has priority. A letter of request for donations will be sent out. Any one wishing to contribute may send a check to Friends of Upton Union Church in care of Suzanne Nelson, Mill Street, Upton.

On another note, to update the membership role of the Upton Union Church, I request each member to send a card or letter stating the desire to retain membership or a request for resignation to Arline Bernier, Backstreet, Upton.

Howdy, folks. Well, another week has passed us by and it is Monday evening again, so I'll fill you in on some of our doings for the past week.

Last Monday evening, we attended Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond. The attendance was small, due to the hot weather, but we had a good meeting and program. We were surprised to have Richard Cole of Pennsylvania join us for the meeting. Richard and his wife Peg are staying at his childhood home in Pinhook and are doing some work on the home. Richard is a past master of Franklin Grange. We were happy to have him with us once more.

On Tuesday, July 4, we joined a family get-together at the home of Bernard and Myrna White in Auburn. Visiting them were Dotie and Josef Niebauer and their seven- and one-half-month-old daughter Julia from Palo Alto, Calif. They were on vacation here in Maine and New Hampshire. Dotie spent one school year with Myrna and her daughters Pamela and Lorna, and the girls all went to high school at Bethel when Myrna was living in Bethel. They will be returning to California, after their vacation, where Josef will work on heart research. Dotie is also a doctor and will be working part-time. They are originally from Germany. Myrna's daughters and their families were there, and everybody enjoyed the different activities that took place, as well as the cookout that took place in the back yard.

Peggy and I went to Franklin Grange Hall on Thursday to help serve the Senior Citizens.

Thursday evening, we attended Agricultural Night at West Paris Grange. For part of the program, Nancy Record, president of the Farm Bureau, was the speaker. She gave a very interesting talk after which there was a question and answer period.

Saturday afternoon, Peggy and I attended the graveside services for Mabel Roaf from Marblehead, Mass., who was buried in the Paris Hill Cemetery. Peggy worked for Mrs. Roaf at her home in Massachusetts for three summers.

Saturday evening, Peggy and a friend attended the dance at Locke Mills.

I spent much of Sunday forenoon digging weeds in the garden, but quit when our sister Laura Hutchins and her granddaughter Mandy Cobb came from East Andover. Brother Bryce and his good wife Barbara were here for a while in the afternoon, and just before 4 p.m. we all went up to help celebrate brother Lawrence's 80th birthday. All of the five brothers and sisters that are left were there, as well as four of Lawrence's children, also grand-children, plus husbands and wives of many. There was a good turnout of relatives and all there were invited to have cake and ice cream or some of the other goodies that were there for the taking. Lawrence received many cards and gifts.

Oxford Pomona Grange will meet at West Paris Grange Hall on Aug. 1. Members are asked to bring desserts to help with the 6:30 supper.

The Archie Lovejoy family spent several days at their camp on North Pond.

Monday callers of the Lovejoys were Frank Lovejoy, and Alan Lovejoy from Oxford, who visited Monday night and part of Tuesday.

On Tuesday, they entertained Helena Bartlett from Bethel, Impi and Raymond Mack of West Paris, David Small from Kennebunkport, Chris Whittemore from South Paris, Andrew Haverinen from South Paris, also Viator, Sonja and Jenny Haverinen from South Paris. Jenny remained to visit with the girls for a few days, and returned home on Thursday.

On Wednesday, Alan Lovejoy and Joel Martino from Oxford came to the camp for some swimming.

Thursday, the little girls that live with the Lovejoys had company at the Lovejoy home.

Friday morning, Mary Lovejoy had an appointment with her friendly doctor in Norway. Friday afternoon, she took her daughter Hope to Dr. Mason's in Lewiston to have her wisdom teeth removed.

On Saturday, several of Archie's co-workers made dooryard calls.

SAFE HANGOUTS GOING STRONG—Area youngsters have been participating in Safe Hangouts programs for the past month. Trips to Fun Town, the Sea Dogs, the Royalty Club and Sunday River for mountain biking have been successfully attended. Still planned for the rest of July are more Sea Dog ball games, beach trips, white water rafting and preschool shopping trips. A $1 registration fee accompanied by permission slips from parents will hold a space for a trip. There are still openings for the middle school white water rafting trip scheduled for Aug. 7. Call 824-2185 for signing up. Parents and community members are being sought to help chaperone these activities. Here, Erica Blood pitches a ball 40 m.p.h. at Fun Town as Lacey Hebert, Danielle Hale and Angela Kreiton watch.

GOULD, MLT TO HOST RACES

Gould Academy and Mahosuc Land Trust will host the Devil's Kitchen Time Trial running races on Sunday, July 23. The challenging courses cover a wide variety of terrain on Gould's cross-country ski trails including many short hills and turns. Using a "time trial" format (popular in nordic skiing and bicycle racing), the events feature interval starting procedures in which one racer begins running every 30 seconds.

Participants may choose to run either in the 6.5 kilometer race, or the shorter 2.5 kilometer fun run. Both events start and finish at Gould's biathlon range on Grover Hill Road.

The first runner will leave the gate at 11 a.m. and racers may register on race day. For more information or a race entry form, please call Scott Jerome at 824-7778.

China exhibit honors Annie Gould

An exhibit of photographs entitled "China: Exploring the Interior, 1903-04" opened this week at the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House Meeting Room and will be on display until Labor Day, 1 to 4 p.m. every day except Monday. Admission to the exhibit is free.

This exhibit honors the memory of Annie Allender Gould, who was born in Bethel in 1867. She spent her childhood in Portland, where her father John Mead Gould, a Gould Academy graduate and Civil War veteran, was a businessman and historian. Her mother, Amelia, was a cousin of Dr. Moses Mason and a daughter of Alphonse and Roxanne Twitchell, whose portraits hang in the parlor chamber of the Dr. Moses Mason House, headquarters of the Bethel Historical Society.

Miss Gould was educated in Portland schools and in 1887 entered Mt. Holyoke Seminary (which was changed to a college while she was enrolled there). She graduated in 1892 as the valedictorian of her class.

On Aug. 7, 1893, she left home for the city of Pao ting fu, North China, Province of Chihli, as a missionary of the American Board. She learned to speak Chinese quickly and later served as an interpreter among her many duties. She approached her work with great zeal and dedication.

During the Boxer Rebellion, she and others were beheaded and their bodies thrown into a common pit. No remains were ever returned to Bethel for burial, but a marker stands to her memory in Riverside Cemetery on the family lot: "Annie Allender Gould b. 1867 d. 1900 Missionary and Martyr."

The photos in the exhibit were taken by Maine native, R. Harvey Sargent, during a 1903-04 Carnegie Institute expedition to the remote interior of China, and are now the focus of a project co-produced by Volunteers for Geography Awareness, an ad hoc educational resource group based in Sargentville, Maine, and by the Chinese Room of the Humanities Council. The exhibit's presence in Bethel was made possible in part with the support of the Bethel Historical Society's Hall Memorial Fund.

On Aug. 20, Robert Sargent, grandson of the photographer R. Harvey Sargent, and Craig Dietrich, professor of history at the University of Southern Maine and a scholar of Chinese history, will be in Bethel to assist in honoring Annie Gould and to discuss the exhibit, Chinese history and the Boxer Rebellion. There will be a special gathering at the marker of Annie Gould in Riverside Cemetery, followed by Professor Dietrich's lecture and a reception in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House.

The Bethel Library

July videos from the "Check It Out" foreign and classic video program: "Silks," "Born Yesterday," "Time for Revenge," "Heaven Can Wait," "Bad Day at Black Rock," "The Sheltering Sky," "The Conversation," "Shelley Mann Quartet," "The Hideaways," "Brer Rabbit and the Wonderful Tar Baby."

During the month of July, watercolors of Sue Wight will be on display in the main room of the library. Come and view these wonderful works by a local artist.

Thanks to CPS Principal David Murphy, we have arranged to borrow some books from the CPS Library this summer. It is a wonderful way to augment our junior collection at a time when so many children are busy reading for the Summer Reading Program. Thanks also to Paula Smith, CPS librarian, for cooperating in this book-share program.

New books added to the library's collection this week: "Secret Paths" by Terri Apter, "Bloodline" by Gerry Boyle, "An Imperfect Spy" by Amanda Cross, "The Seacoast of Bohemia" by Nicholas Freeling, "New Passages" by Gail Sheehy, "The Odd Job" by Charlotte McLeod, "Practical Magic" by Alice Hoffman, "Memoirs of Elizabeth Frankenstein" by Roszak, "Independence Day" by Richard Ford, "The Wind" by Nevada Barr, "The Passion of Fatherland" by O.J. Peterson, "The Properties of Water" by Ann Hood, "Beach Music" by Pat Conroy, "Rainbow's End" by Martha Grimes, "The Counting Man" by Robertson Davies, "The Late Child" by Larry McMurtry, "An Imaginative Experience" by Mary Wesley, "Of Love and Other Demons" by Gabriel Garcia Marquez, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by Mary Higgins Clark, "Rule of the Bone" by Russell Banks, "In Search of Stones" by M. Scott Peck, "Carousel" by Belva

Thanks to everyone who has been donating used books for the Moll-ycockett Day Book Sale, which will be held on the library lawn this Saturday. We have a large supply of books and the sale should be a good one. Don't miss it.

Tips from the

Bethel Community Lakes Association

Did you know? -- Phosphorous can kill a lake by contributing to weed and algal growth. Excess weeds and algae are harmful to fish populations and make lakes and ponds less attractive for wildlife, swimming, boating and other activities. Phosphates come from soaps, shampoos, soils and sediments.

You can help protect our lakes for the future.

--Don't bathe yourself or your dog in ponds and lakes.

--Don't wash cars or boats near lakes, streams or drainage ditches.

--Don't use fertilizers or pesticides in excess on your garden or lawn.

--Do use non-phosphate soaps for laundry and dish washing. (This is a state law.)

--Do protect and preserve vegetation around the lake by staying on established footpaths along the shore. Plants help filter out pollution and prevent erosion.

--Do travel slowly in your boat while in shallow water to avoid stirring up sediments. They are rich in phosphates and contribute to algal blooms.

--Do carry out trash, human and animal wastes.

For information on how to help preserve our lakes, contact Nancy Wilkard, Community Lakes Association, 72 Alpine Shores, Bryant Pond, ME 04219. Members are welcome. Annual dues, $10.
